Rep. Todd Clodfelter to Host Legislative Tour Showcasing Southern Arizona's Economic Growth

STATE CAPITOL, PHOENIX – Representative Todd Clodfelter (R-10) is hosting a bipartisan legislative tour of Tucson next week, October 19 and 20, to showcase Southern Arizona's rapid economic growth.

"As Tucson's economy continues to gain momentum, the implications for Arizona's future are great," said Representative Clodfelter. "I can't wait to show my colleagues in the Legislature the businesses driving Southern Arizona's rapid economic growth and the effect they have on the entire state."

Representative Clodfelter is hosting the tour with his seatmate Senator David Bradley (D-10), along with the Southern Arizona Business Caucus. The legislators, including House Speaker J.D. Mesnard (R-17), will visit Downtown Tucson, the University of Arizona, Raytheon, and the Port of Tucson.

The Southern Arizona Business Caucus is a diverse group of community leaders in Southern Arizona who are actively engaged in advocacy at Arizona's State Capitol. The group, which includes business, education, healthcare, military, mining, real estate and utility interests, is focused on raising awareness of the importance of Southern Arizona in the state's economy.
